

What is Project CARE?

Project CARE is Morton College's volunteer adult literacy program. It uses trained volunteer tutors to teach adult students who want help with reading and writing, and/or adults who are learning English as a Second Language. Tutoring services are available to all eligible students, even if they have a high school diploma. And the best part is that these services are free.

Students can also use the Academic Skills Center's computer lab, which has educational software programs, to build a variety of skills. The lab can be used individually or with the help of a tutor.

"Never doubt that a small group of committed citizens can change the world; indeed, it's the only thing that ever has."

Margaret Mead

How can I help?

There are fulfilling opportunities for all types of enthusiastic volunteers. These include tutoring that is...

- Individual, one-on-one
- Small group (two to ten students)
- In a classroom as an instructor aide

Volunteers receive a total of 12 hours of training in how to be a tutor. After completing the training sessions, volunteers are asked to provide three hours of tutoring per week for a minimum of 3 months.

Project CARE
Adult Reading Experience

The better you can read, write, speak and understand English, the better you can command your future. The more you can read and understand, the better choices you can make for health, family, government, education and career.

Imagine the Possibilities

You may want to dedicate some of your own time and talents to help people increase their freedom and self-worth through reading, writing and language.

Project CARE is reaching out to the surrounding communities for volunteers willing to tutor. To learn how you may be able to help others, contact Project CARE today.
